

Beta Tester Agreement

Last updated: July 13, 2026

This Beta Tester Agreement ("Agreement") is between you ("Beta Tester," "you") and True Design Method ("we," "us," "our") and governs your participation in the confidential beta test of Discovery (TRUE AI), Planning (Roadmaps, including SMS check-ins), Alignment (TRUE Labs), and the Dashboard (together, the "Beta Service"). This Agreement supplements, and does not replace, our Terms of Use and Privacy Policy, which continue to apply.

By checking the box to accept this Agreement and creating an account, you agree to the terms below.

1. Confidential beta software

The Beta Service is unreleased, confidential software made available to you for testing purposes only. You understand and agree that:

- The Beta Service, including its features, design, underlying methodology, AI prompts, and any materials, screenshots, or content we share with you about it, is True Design Method's confidential information ("Beta Confidential Information").
- Your participation in the beta, and the fact that the Beta Service exists in its current form, is also confidential unless we say otherwise in writing.
- The obligations in this section survive after your beta access ends or your account is closed.

2. No distribution or reproduction

You agree not to distribute, publish, reproduce, copy, screen-record, screenshot for external sharing, or otherwise make available any part of the Beta Service — including its interface, generated outputs shown to you as examples, underlying prompts or methodology, or any Beta Confidential Information — to any person who is not also an authorized Beta Tester, without our prior written consent.

This does not restrict your personal use of your own generated LifePrint, Vision Arc, Roadmap, or schedule for your own life planning purposes (see our Terms of Use, §6.2), but it does mean you should not post screenshots, forward exports, or otherwise share the platform itself publicly (e.g. on social media, review sites, or with press) during the beta period.

3. Features may change, and things may break

You understand and agree that, because this is beta software:

- Features, flows, pricing, AI models used, and content may change, be added, or be removed at any time without notice;
- Data (including LifePrints, Roadmaps, schedules, and check-in history) may be reset, migrated, lost, or become inaccessible during the beta period, and we recommend exporting anything you want to keep;
- AI-generated content may be less reliable, less accurate, or behave differently than in a general-release version; and

- The Beta Service is provided "as is" for testing, with no guarantee of uptime, continuity, or that it will become a generally available product.

4. Feedback

Any feedback, bug reports, or suggestions you give us during the beta are governed by the Feedback clause in our Terms of Use: we may use them freely, without attribution or compensation, and they are not treated as confidential information belonging to you.

5. Term and termination

This Agreement applies for as long as you have beta access. We may end your beta access at any time, for any reason, including when the beta period ends or the product moves to general release. Sections 1 and 2 (confidentiality and no-distribution) survive termination.

6. Relationship to other terms

Nothing in this Agreement limits your rights, or our obligations, under our Privacy Policy regarding your personal data. Where this Agreement and our Terms of Use conflict specifically on beta-related matters, this Agreement controls; otherwise the Terms of Use control. This Agreement is governed by the laws of the Province of Alberta and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

7. Contact us

True Design Method
P.O. Box 1531, Raymond, AB, Canada T0K 2S0
truedesignmethod@gmail.com